

SUPERSONIC SLIME

You always need some Slime! And 'cos I'm so Horrid, here's the best recipe for making the best slime ever, right here, right now!

You will need:

Cornflour 200g

Icing sugar, sieved 50g

Coconut milk from a can 175ml

A few drops of food colouring, gel if possible as they give you a stronger colour without making it too runny!

An airtight storage container

HERE'S HOW TO MAKE IT:

1. Simply mix all the ingredients together in a bowl using a metal spoon.
2. If the slime firms up too much, add a little bit of water or coconut milk to loosen.
3. If the mix is too runny add more cornflour, a little at a time.
4. When you have a smooth thick paste, your slime is ready!
5. Add in edible sprinkles or glitter for extra sparkle!!
6. Use the airtight container to keep your slime in and just add a little water to soften up if it starts to dry out.

A note for your grown up; this Supersonic slime is made of kitchen ingredients so it's safe to taste, though
